

REMARKS

Applicant respectfully asserts that the foregoing amendments should be entered as the amendments are not being submitted for purpose of delay, do not involve new matter, and are directed to form, not substance, and place the application in better form for publication. Additionally, Applicant respectfully requests that the below substitutions be made to clarify the reasons for allowance, and that the Information Disclosure Statement be initialed and returned.

I. Comments on Statement of Reasons For Allowance

In the Office Action mailed on August 24, 2004, the following was an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance under section 6 of that Office Action:

The above claims are allowed because the prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest a reverse mode transistor configured to protect a circuit between a pad and ground; and having a capacitance between the base and the emitter of about ten times less than the parasitic capacitance between the collector and the substrate.

Applicant respectfully requests that the word "pad" in the Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance be replaced with the word "source," as described in claim 1.

In the Notice of Allowability (Part of Paper No./Mail Date 20040917), the following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance as detailed under section 2 of page 2:

Regarding claims 13-16, 18, 20, 22-28, 30: These are allowable because the prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest, in combination with the other claim limitations; a bipolar junction transistor with the base coupled to a resistance element and the bipolar transistor configured with a breakdown voltage less than the breakdown voltage of the circuit to be protected.

Applicant respectfully requests that the above examiner's statement of reasons for allowance regarding claims 13-16, 18, 20, 22-28, and 30 be substituted as follows:

Regarding claims 13-16, these claims are allowable because the prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest, in combination with other claim limitations, a bipolar junction transistor with the base coupled to a resistance element.

With regard to claims 20, 22-28, and 30, these claims are allowable because the prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest, in combination with the other claim limitations, a bipolar junction transistor configured with a breakdown voltage less than the breakdown voltage of the circuit to be protected.

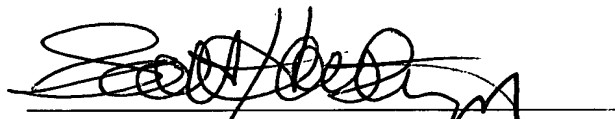

II. Information Disclosure Statement

Per Applicant's attorney's voice mail messages left with Examiner Demakis on 10/27/04 and 10/29/04, Applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner initial all applicable spaces on the IDS form PTO-1449 (a copy enclosed for your convenience, labeled as Exhibit A) submitted on December 15, 2000, as evidenced by the USPTO acknowledge receipt (see Exhibit B), in order to indicate full consideration of all references identified therein.

CONCLUSION

Applicant respectfully asserts that the foregoing amendments are not being submitted for purpose of delay and do not involve new matter. If, in the opinion of the Examiner, a telephonic conference would expedite entry of the foregoing amendment, the Examiner is invited to call the undersigned attorney at (770) 933-9500.

Respectfully submitted,
